National Severe Weather Warning Service

Chief Forecasters Assessment
Following frequent sleet and snow showers during Saturday, clearing skies will allow a widespread frost to develop with snow and slush deposits freezing leading to ice on untreated surfaces.

The Met Office have issued a Yellow Alert of Ice

Valid from 00:05 on Sun, 13th Jan 2013 until 12:00 on Sun, 13th Jan 2013

Across parts of eastern Scotland and the far northeast of England, icy stretches will form during Saturday night and into Sunday morning as slush or snow deposits on the ground freeze over making for treacherous conditions on untreated roads and pavements.

The public should be aware of the need to take extra care and of the risk of disruption to travel.
